Tulalip Tribes Charitable Contributions Report - Code: Q4 2021 (unknown)
Glacier Peak Institute Time period: 01/2022 to 01/2023

Dear Marilyn Sheldon and Tulalip Cares,

Thank you for the contribution of [REDACTED] from the Tulalip Tribes Charitable Contributions. The [REDACTED] was used for transportation to support direct programming for over 150 youth from Snohomish and Skagit Counties for our 100% scholarship programs for low income housing, BIPOC, rural and Latinx youth.

Report Requirements

1. Please see the attached pictures
 - a. Darrington program on a hike, stopping to enjoy the roots of a cedar
 - b. Darrington youth playing on the boulders in front of Boulder Falls
 - c. Project Girl participants learning how to use a water filter on a hike along the Sauk River
 - d. Kulshan Creek youth and families on a bike ride
2. We estimate that we impacted 150 people directly with the programming.

The funding allowed GPI to provide transportation to outdoor programs for youth from the Darrington area, Project Girl, Korean Community Service Center, Connect Casino Road, and Kulshan Creek Neighborhood. For all of our partner groups, transportation to the outdoors is a consistent challenge. This allowed for 599 hours of programming 5,000 hours of youth outdoors. Our programs included mountain bike riding, foraging, rafting, canoeing, science collection of environmental DNA to discover local species and restoration.

As a result of your support, Tulalip Cares empowered communities across Snohomish and Skagit to learn and grow in the outdoors. Glacier Peak Institute's humble ability to support our greater community through outdoor education grew. As did the demand from our partner organizations.

In appreciation for your support and community,

Oak Rankin
Executive Director
