Island Senior Resources (ISR) is profoundly grateful to the Tulalip Tribes Charitable Contributions for supporting ISR Helps that links clients to our programs including Aging and Disability Resources, Meals on Wheels, Medical Transportation, and more. ISR delivers services to seniors, adults living with disabilities, and those who care about them in Island County. For these Whidbey and Camano Island residents, ISR’s resources enhance their ability to receive the services they need to live independently.

Island Senior Resources’ Interwoven Programs

Program	Description of Services	Outcomes for this Period
Aging & Disability Resources (ADR)	Aging and Disability Resources Specialists provide an array of resource information and assistance to seniors, adults with disabilities, and those who care about them and for them. The information is wide-ranging, including assistance with applications for support, family caregiver information, long-term care planning, Social Security, Medicare, housing, Adult Protective Services, and much more.	ISR Resource Specialists served 1,864 clients with an average of 3.3 contacts each. Through general reception we handled approximately 11 thousand phone calls connecting clients with essential services.
Meals on Wheels/Community Meals	Each week ISR delivers hot lunches to home-bound seniors on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday with the option of frozen meals for the alternate days and the weekend. Community volunteers deliver the meals and serve as a safety check for each senior, as many of them see no one during the week except the volunteer.	Meals on Wheels delivered almost 80,000 meals to approximately 350 clients per month. This is 12% increase in the number of meals from the same period the year before. We also provided almost 21,000 meals at our Community Meal sites.
Medical Transportation	ISR provides transportation to medical appointments within Island County and from Bellingham to Seattle. Community volunteers provide transportation for seniors that no longer drive and depend on these one-of-a-kind services to maintain their health care.	ISR’s Medical Transportation volunteers took clients on 1038 trips, driving 3,974 hours and 81,363 miles.
